

CONTROL RISKS TO PROTECT YOUR EMPLOYEES AND CUSTOMERS

Regulatory compliance, workstation safety and ergonomics, marketing and CE marking of products and processes... Cetim provides you with independent and tailor-made assistance.

Your expectations

- Guarantee your employees' health and safety and comply with the Labour Code
- Market products and machines which comply with the regulations (CE marking directives, REACH regulation, etc.)
- Design ergonomic workstations which comply with the applicable regulatory requirements
- Turn your constraints into an opportunity for development on new markets (diversification through innovation)
- Meet the specific requirements of your customers and markets

Our solutions

- The identification of regulations and standards applicable to your activities, products and processes (T-kit tool)
- The procedures for affixing the CE marking on the products and machines that you use, modify, integrate, manufacture or place on the market
- The risk analysis in accordance with the applicable standards (IDAR method)
- The development of safety functions (SISTEMA tool, standard NF EN 13849-1, etc.)
- The compliance check (various directives: machinery, low voltage, EMC, pressure equipment, etc.)
- The technical documentation and instructions for use
- The transfer of know-how to your teams (training)
- The ergonomic design of your workstations
- The integration of robotics into your workshops to reduce arduous work and MSDs while preserving your productivity goals
- Hazardous substances and their substitution (REACH regulation, RoHS directive, etc.)
- The exposure of people in specific environments (air pollution, noise, etc.)

Your benefits

Pragmatic integration, to the extent necessary, of the regulatory requirements while taking your specific context and needs into account
